LABOR UPDATES

Contract negotiations with SEIU have begun

The City and SEIU have begun bargaining over a new comprehensive MOU. The bargaining team members are Frank Corral, Lisa Munoz, Enrique Barboza, Jeannie Pauli, Diane Howard, Dean Martin, Barbara Hunt, Sammie Luna-Farias, Gloria Melendez (alternate), Ed Toole, and Corrine Parker for the Union; and Tina English, Laura Chavez-Nomura, Chris Vicino, Mario Lara, Scott Catlett, Gina Villaseñor, Amy Haug, and Steven Espinoza for the City. The labor agreement with SEIU expires on June 30, 2013 and both sides look forward to discussing the issues most important to them and coming up with a package deal that will benefit all stakeholders. One of the key goals for these negotiations, in addition to addressing the needs and interests of each side, is to continue to improve the labor-management relationship. A good and positive relationship has been developed over the recent years which has led to the resolution of many labor issues and we are expecting that those experiences will carry over into negotiations thereby enabling both sides to come up with a deal that we will all enjoy and take us to new heights in terms of labor relations. All employees at all levels of the organization can do their part by interacting in a positive and supportive manner during these negotiations and trusting their representatives at the bargaining table to act in the best interest of the City, its employees, and most importantly the public that we serve.
